

Coming in November...

USGBC Colorado Profile

If green building and environmentally friendly building practices are standard operating procedure at your business...market your company's green building expertise with visibility in the USGBC Colorado Chapter Profile. Reach the industry leaders and decision makers who represent sustainability in Colorado.

Topics will include the many programs, projects and initiatives that are driving the adoption of green building principles in Colorado.

This publication will mail with the November 2008 edition of Colorado Construction Magazine.
